The phenomenon of 'WOMEN HARASSMENT' was prevalent from time immemorial Right from the 'Chir Haran' of Draupadi to The 'Tyag' of Sita to the 'Persecution of 'Holy Mary' to the 'Witch Hunting' stories of the 'Ruth' 'Alice' 'The Dayen' 'Churail' 'Nagin' 'and what not.

In our country till the last couple of decade womens were tried to underestimate. They have got the ill treatment not only from society but even in the family and same has been transferred to the next generation. In this regard our nation is evident to have so many legends and they have advocated the women education, dismantling of caste system, remarriage of widows and so on.

Due to continuous efforts of different social reformers slowly the scenario got changed and society accepted that womens are equal to men and they are also having the right to get the equal opportunity in all the fields. In continuation to these educational institutes also plays an important role to sensitizing the students towards gender issues. To change the mindset of students towards the opposite sex teachers always council them in the class room to respect each other.

In this concern we had organized a Rangoli competition for students on 22nd January 2018 to make the young boys and girl's gender sensitive and create positive values that support the girls and their rights and to give voice against gender discrimination. Students made the Rangoli with attractive caption which dragged the attention of entire college.

Principal Dr. C. M.Dudhe, Dr. V. M. Raut, Dr. A.B. Kalambe, Mr. Santosh Ashtaputrey, Dr. Mandar Paingankar, Dr. Syed Abrar Ahmed, Mr Amar Kuril, all CHB teachers and non teaching staff were present and appreciated the creativity of students.

This activity could bring the change in attitude of students to look against the opposite sex, respect them and their values.

Fashion show on gender equality

Our institute believes in gender equality to accelerate the progress and opportunities without gender discrimination. The college is having maximum strength of girls students and they are allowed to participate actively in all the programmes and different events of the college.

There are so many evidences reflecting women's are under estimated by the society. But now time is changed where womens are not less than the men and they are equally treated in all the fields. Their contribution in nation building and in an ideal society can't be denied, so a special ramp was kept on 24th January 2019 to display the "women empowerment" on the eve of "Spectrum" an annual social gathering of college. In this show girl students wore the different attire representing the different profession like Air hostess, teacher, advocate, engineer, politics, entrepreneur, housewife, doctor, police and defence etc. The show depicted how woman's are confidently and efficiently serving in different profession and leading the nation. The show was much appreciated by the audience and it was quite enough to prove the womens are having all kind of potential to lead the nation equally with men in real sense.

This show also developed a respect towards women in male students and made them to understand womens are equal to men.
